

Rollins Standout In Tough Game

By Dave Dryburgh
Special to The Edmonton Journal
REGINA, Sask., March 6.—You can't get it down for sure that the boys didn't take any shot in the dark when they came up with fair-haired Al Rollins as the all-time goal tender in the Western Senior Hockey League. It was Rollins who raked in the first playoff point Friday night, doubling Regina.

See Highlights of game on Page 10.

fans with ice water as he slammed the door on Cape and inspired a grim Edmonton Flyer team to a sweet 3-2 triumph that was music to Edmonton but slightly more than disconcerting to Regina.

The clutch goal keeping of Rollins in the last seven minutes was the payoff. It was a terrific show by the tall lad from Kincaid, Sask., and his sensational bit of work might easily mean the series because Cape got only one more whirl at the best-of-five round on home ice tonight, before taking off for Edmonton next week.

But Flyers had to hang tough for two periods and come roaring from behind to set the stage for Rollins. They were locked in an exhausting, typical playoff duel with Cape for a couple of periods and were pecking out from behind a 2-0 deficit when Alex Pringle hoisted the puck high into Johnny Sofiak's cage late in the second session to give them a life.

That was the lifeline they had. And when Cape stumbled for the first time right after the third period faceoff the hungry Flyers pounced on him. Andy Cleveloch and Johnny Black rattled goals less than two minutes apart and the Regina were back on their heels and Rollins did the rest. Cape recovered quickly but they couldn't get back what they had given away so unexpectedly.

CROWD BAFFLED
A baffling crowd of only 2,577 (mostly known) why saw Cape play their costliest hockey of the season for a couple of periods to be in complete command of traffic.

They got goals from Al McDougal, Bill Kyle and Doug Lane. Cape was home free when they suddenly opened their guard, and then they opened up with all guns blazing and were bewildered, demented even when they got nothing for it. It marked the first time all season the Regina had lost four games in a row.

TIGHT-FISTED OPENING
Neither team would give an inch. In the tight-fisted opening exchanges, but a couple of chances came after eight minutes and it was who could outlast.

Doug Anderson blew Regina's pass on a four-minute break and the Flyers wheeled right back for Harvey Barnes to rifle one that brought about a faceoff. Vile Nylund poked the puck into the net and McDougal scooped up the rebound and sent Regina back to the pressure as Flyers took a couple of penalties but nobody got by.

As Regina wanted the game, they launched a second-period drive and Barnes and Jimmy Fairbairn banged away at Rollins and the Flyers that brought the second goal. Cape suddenly let loose with everything and Rollins and Doug Lane Douglas threw back to Kyle finally hit the pump.

Flyers saw the hand-writing on the wall and had a go at it then but got defensive. Cape's stop on Black's wrist, he held them off. They almost broke the works in it. Lou Hauk wheeled away to be clear from the blue line in only one shot but not enough. Cape attempted to pick the short shot.

COULD HAVE BEEN BREAK
That could have been the break of the game, because it wasn't. Five minutes into the third period, Cape poured in on Doug Lane ripped one at Sofiak before the comeback one Prince fastened on to the rubber and flipped it home.

Cape couldn't cope with the desperate Flyers when the puck was dropped for the final time. The rest of it was a blur and Cleveloch was standing right in front of the crease with Merrik and Anderson in front of him. Merrik engineered the winner as his acrobatic jump over the goal line directed to Black on the wing who let go and found the target with a moan surrounding Sofiak.

Flyers had just more chance after that. Johnny Rinald breaking in alone on Sofiak and being outwitted by the young Regina center. The rest of it was a blur. Rollins as Flyers hung as tough as they knew how while the teams tired rapidly.

DIVED ON PUCK
Gordie Stansen was alone in front and Rollins came in on the puck. Lou Hauk hit a skate in a drive that found his feet from a few feet out. Fairbairn dove in and couldn't find the goal and then came the goal. Doug Lane was the first of all McDougal raced down the ice on a break, saw his backhander and watched Rollins sprawl on the ice to gobble up the rebound, but when Kyle roared in behind him, Cleveloch and Kyle standing with only Rollins between them and pay dirt a few minutes later, and it was the goalie who won again.

There was a sensational exhibition of toe-drover maneuvering. The Flyers mobbed Rollins at the final goal, but there was another fellow standing on the ice who pretty good. Kyle drank all too... Doug Lane was in on two of the goals, was troublesome.

Here's Game In Nutshell

LINUPS:
Edmonton—Rollins: Watter, Young, Rinald; Black, Mather, Sube, Pringle; Kyle, McPherson, Cleveloch, Smith, Anderson, Merrik, Lane.
Regina—Sofiak: Gus Kyle, Grove; Bill Kyle; McDougal, Van Deelen, Sube, Vile, Brown, Hauk, Schmidt, Fairbairn, Stansen, Myles, Barnes.
Referee: Vile-Lindquist and Red Kerr, Winnipeg.

SUMMARY:
First period: 1—Regina, McDougal (Vile) 8:18, Penalties—Young, Second period: 2—Regina, Bill Kyle (Van Deelen) 7:41, Penalties—Pringle (Lane) 10:46, Penalties—Lane (Lane) 13:21, Penalties—none.

Third period: 4—Edmonton, Cleveloch (Merrik) 10:46, Penalties—none, Doug Lane (Lane) 13:21, Penalties—none.

all night with his wicked drives from the blue line and seemed to be on a comeback rack. None of the Flyers' attacking line was sensational because it was typical, close-checking play and they produced a goal apiece which is better than par in that type of game. The limited number of goals, as you can see, was not a disaster.

Cape had a good goal on the wing but his old weakness as a playmaker was exposed. They didn't finish in the goal mouth and the Flyers' attack was disastrous... Myles and Barnes trained in standard games at the Regina and although McDougal-Kyle-Van Deelen line did the scoring, the Edmonton drive had just as many chances with Toby Brown's fastest man on the ice.

SOFT FOR REFERENCE
It turned out to be a soft one for the referees because the boys were tending strictly to their knitting... the slim crowd had everything on the line and the referees were increased prices or the recent slump in the market.

That was merely an exhibition drew 1,000 persons earlier in the season.

3 Drivers Are Beaten By Strikers

Violent Action Again Flares Up In Mine Strike

New flare-up occurred Friday evening in front of York hotel, 96 street and 104 avenue, where three truck drivers were allegedly attacked by strikers.

B. Starkey, owner of Penn and Starkey mines, said he filed charges this morning against John McKee, 960 103 avenue, former worker at Penn mine, and John Yushyn, 1500 82 street, who was employed at Starkey mine to the strike. Shortly afterwards, city police said warrants for the men had been issued.

Three truck drivers allegedly assaulted were seen near York hotel, 960 103 street; Steven Myronuk, 960 103 street; Robert Krahm, 1040 153 street.

Police said none of the truck drivers was injured seriously during the fracas.

Truck drivers are all employed by Starkey mines. They last went out for a beer, I believe, when strikers gathered around them," Mr. Starkey said. "After an exchange of words, I understand McKee and Yushyn rushed the truck drivers."

Thomas A. McCreedy, district organizer for United Mine Workers of America, was not available today for comment on the new outbreak. One official said he had no comment to make.

PREVIOUSLY ARRESTED
One of the strikers expected to be arrested by city police, Yushyn, was arrested Tuesday by RCMP in connection with first flare-up near the Starkey mine. Winds from the north, which reached a peak of 41 mph, blew steadily through the night. A severe frost was expected to decrease to 15 degrees by midday.

No let-up in the sudden cold snap is expected during the week-end.

Magistrate J. F. Eastwood delayed commitment until when idel Weintraub termed "head of a conspiracy" in the third, fourth and fifth years of the agreement if mutually accepted by the two countries. He said the men were charged with conspiracy in connection with the issue of British passports, some of which were used to enter Canada today were committed for trial.

Witnesses testified yesterday that Weintraub had obtained false passports enabling them to travel in and out of Canada and that they had been displaced persons camps in Europe.

Shuman's Govt. Passes New Test
PARIS, March 6.—(AP)—Premier Robert Schuman's government passed a new test today when the French Assembly defeated by a 301 to 280 vote a bill which would have curtailed a part of Finance Minister Schuman's proposed adjustment to deal with France's currency crisis. The bill was introduced by Communist Leader Jacques Duclos.

No hard agreement was reached upon merger of the French zone with the United States-occupied zone of occupation, but responsible officials said decisions reached here would be subject to further study.

The three powers decided Germany would be represented in the international control of the Ruhr. No indication was given whether Britain will be invited to participate.

The Ruhr agreement was in general terms. The specific recommendations of the three powers would be submitted first to the governments concerned.

The three powers adjourned until next month their talks on the role Germany may play in the economic recovery program.

Immigrants Is Cut

At Least 50 Pct. British Subjects

By Ken Kelly

HALIFAX, March 6.—(CP)—Resources Minister Glen today announced Canada's 1948 immigration policy, which will virtually double the number of displaced persons and Britons permitted to enter the Dominion.

In an interview, the resources minister, whose portfolio covers administration of Canada's immigration policy, said approximately 100,000 persons will be admitted to the Dominion. Last year 54,687 immigrants came from overseas and 9,440 from the United States.

At least 50 per cent of the 100,000 will be British subjects from the United Kingdom or Commonwealth countries. These will come in groups about the Aquitania and other passenger ships.

Mr. Glen said the Cunard White Star liner Aquitania is scheduled to make 11 trips to Halifax from England this year and will provide priority bookings for 12,100 British subjects. In addition, the Empress of Canada and the Aquitania also will bring priority groups from the United Kingdom.

Aquitania will make the first of her scheduled voyages with immigrants May 25. She will probably carry about 1,100 persons during early trips and may step up the number later in the season when fewer passengers are likely to be making pleasure cruises on the austere liner.

SPECIAL PRIORITY
Special priority also has been made for 10,000 Dutch immigrants who will come to Canada to take up farm land in all nine provinces. Shipping arrangements have been made for these people by The Netherlands government.

Mr. Glen said shipping accommodation is the biggest problem the Resources Department now faces in the implementation of the new immigration policy for Canada.

Other groups, mostly displaced persons from occupied territories in Austria and Germany, will come to Canada through the Beaverbrook General Service, General Service or General Heintzelman. Of the 20,000 DPs approved by the immigration government, 13,073 have already been accepted.

CAREFULLY SCREENED
These immigrants are carefully screened by the Resources Department's six teams operating on the Continent. Mr. Glen said. Most of them are displaced persons under care of the International Refugee Organization which chartered the ship.

Immigrants coming on the Aquitania will be close relatives of Canadian citizens who have vouchered for their care.

There are six main classes admitted to enter the Dominion as immigrants:

1. British subjects, by birth or naturalization, from Commonwealth countries.

2. United States citizens.

3. Close relatives of a legal resident of Canada.

4. Agricultural and farm laborers, experienced miners, lumbermen and industrial workers whose support is guaranteed by an employer or relative.

5. Veterans of Canadian forces who were in the Dominions as non-immigrants at time of enlistment.

Western Powers Agree On Control of Ruhr
LONDON, March 6.—(AP)—The United States, Britain and France have agreed upon international control of the Ruhr and close co-operation to enlist Western Germany's aid in the Marshall Plan.

No hard agreement was reached upon merger of the French zone with the United States-occupied zone of occupation, but responsible officials said decisions reached here would be subject to further study.

The three powers decided Germany would be represented in the international control of the Ruhr. No indication was given whether Britain will be invited to participate.

CIO Ousts Bridges For Wallace Views

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(AP)—The CIO yesterday fired Harry Bridges as its Northern California regional director because he is supporting Henry Wallace for president.

Allen Haywood, CIO vice-president and organization director, wrote Bridges that his position in the third-party question left the CIO no alternative but to oust him.

The action was announced at CIO headquarters after Haywood had personally delivered a letter to the West Coast longshoremen's leader, CIO campaigning for Henry Wallace against the Marshall plan, or get out of the CIO.

The CIO said it was not a party. It has not, however, gone beyond that as to its political plan for the 1948 presidential campaign. The job of regional director is appointed by the CIO and is not affected by the action.

More Duplessis Comment Coming

QUERBEC, March 6.—(CP)—A further statement from Premier Duplessis on the Polish treasure question is expected next week following his declaration last night in the legislative assembly that he would comment again "at the proper time."

"I shall tell you what is the truth," he said after Leon Cragin (I.—Riviere-du-Loi) criticized him for "describing Mr. St. Laurent as a collaborator of Stalin."

Mr. Cragin referred to the premier's original statement published Wednesday in L'Action Chinoise, Quebec daily newspaper, in which he announced transfer of the treasure, which had been stored in the Hotel Dieu here, to the provincial police.

Before Mr. Cragin raised the matter in the provincial house occupied with the budget debate, Premier Duplessis Wednesday statement represented the "last spasm of a dying regime."

"We have heard of provincial autonomy, municipal autonomy and the flag which does not belong to the government," said Mr. Choquette, "Nin, the premier will attack himself to pull treasure. I say it is too late. Nothing can save this discredited regime."

King, Queen to Visit N. Zealand, Australia

LONDON, March 6.—(CP)—The King and Queen, who visited Canada in 1939 and South Africa in 1947, will tour New Zealand and Australia early in 1949, Buckingham Palace announced last night.

Princess Margaret, who travelled with Princess Elizabeth and her parents to South Africa, will also make the trip, but not with them. The Duke of Edinburgh, who is the King's eldest son, will not go.

The tour is in response to invitations from Prime Minister Fraser of New Zealand and Prime Minister Chifley of Australia, issued in which he announced transfer of the treasure, which had been stored in the Hotel Dieu here, to the provincial police.

WILL MAKE HISTORY

The visit, the first of a reigning sovereign to the Australian dominions, will make history as did the visit to Canada a few months before the Second World War began.

The Royal party will travel by air. There was no definite indication that the Royal ship, possibly the battleship Vanguard, will go to New Zealand first. The 42,000-ton Vanguard, which carried the royal family to South Africa, will have trouble negotiating the Suez Canal and the route via the Panama Canal would make a first call at New Zealand convenient.

New Atomic Bomb Metal Is Found

Transmutation of Thorium Into Uranium Accomplished

By Howard W. Blakeslee

NEW YORK, March 6.—(AP)—Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, famous atomic scientist, disclosed tonight that he had found small pieces of a new kind of atomic bomb and fuel metal have been manufactured.

The new metal is uranium 233, made by changing the heavy metal, thorium into uranium. This new form of uranium does not exist in nature.

A small part of an ounce of the thorium metal, Dr. Seaborg reported, has been made in the Harford, Wash., uranium-graphite, chain-reacting, atomic pile. The total new metal is a few hundred milligrams.

This means atomic events which change uranium into plutonium also can be made with one kind of atomic metal.

Since thorium is three times more plentiful than uranium, it will be the world's main reliance for atomic power. Uranium is so scarce that the known supplies would not keep the present-size United States power industry running more than five years.

POWER SUPPLY MULTIPLIED
When uranium is converted into plutonium this power supply, multiplied, probably by 100 times, but even so the plutonium power supply is far less than that in prospect for thorium.

Dr. Seaborg also disclosed that the new form of uranium, 233, when manufactured by transmutation, will last for many thousands of years. Its "life" is far longer than that of plutonium.

The thorium transmutation produces a new atomic metal that will half disintegrate in 142,000 years. Plutonium does the same half disintegration in about 24,000 years.

At Ottawa, a National Research Council scientist said the achievement of Dr. Seaborg in the manufacture of uranium 233 was "good news" to atomic scientists but that the discovery was not "startling".

The source said that the basic program of Canada's Chalk River project included the preparation of a formula for the manufacture of the new metal, but that the formula had not yet been found.

of little more than perhaps the triangle player or a snare-drum virtuoso. Similarly, in England, and elsewhere, Western Canadian musicians have added strong support to orchestral organizations.

At Edmonton citizens are considering building a civic auditorium, it would be a good time to give some thought to promotion of artistic endeavors which are to take place there. A decentralized, co-operative movement for establishment of a professional symphony orchestra would have to result from an active effort by all interested citizens. But the factor of economic security is necessary if first-rate personnel is to be hired who can be achieved only by reason of assistance from civic and provincial governments with intelligent support from the CBC.

Latter organization, however, of course, cover one point of the exclusion of another. Now, we could do something to remedy the condition it has already created in centralizing music by the Faculty of Music, by porting any joint enterprise at citizen level.

Canada, today, possesses one symbolic body of first-rate artists in the Toronto Symphony Orchestra. The day may yet dawn when the very best of similar provided with a medium to express their artistic soul with like virtuosity.

What Character does your handwriting reveal?

Be prepared to meet life's problems. Know your proper conduct, best type to marry and points about your personality that will bring you success and happiness.

All you have to do is send twenty-five cents (in coin) and a STAMPED SELF-ADDRESSED ENVELOPE, together with a sample of your handwriting to Adrienne, care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

With one stamped self-addressed envelope, you may send as many samples of handwriting as you wish, but be sure to enclose twenty-five cents for each sample of handwriting.

Of what value is handwriting analysis in the business world? What applicability has it to the problems of every day commercial life? The increasing demand for information from business executives who are firmly convinced of the accuracy, value and utility of hand writing analysis, makes it a strong and dominating factor in this practical age of industry. It is not only of great assistance to the employer, but the employee, too, reaps in the harvest of results.

GREAT PRECAUTION
Let us peep into the office of a busy executive. Many matters of importance are brought to his attention and added to the general trend of affairs, there is the problem of replacing a number of inefficient employees. In order to avoid a repetition, he must employ great precaution in making his selection.

He has a vital question on his hands, which, if not performed properly, will be an actual loss to his firm in dollars and cents. In what manner is he going to cope with the problem? Will it be an oral procedure of sitting through long letters and deciding on the verbal merits and references of the writer or will he submit these letters for application to a handwriting analysis for diagnosis?

He invariably chooses the latter course, which will give him the desired results in the most effective manner. The handwriting analyst gives each prospective employee a detailed, unbiased and thorough analysis.

It now remains a simple problem for the employer to make his final decision. He is able through the science of graphology to select skilled workers, who when placed in their right capacity, will prove an asset and not a liability to the firm.

STOP, LOOK, LISTEN
Handwriting analysis has many predominating features that are of great significance to the business man. It is a valuable check against employing individuals who are not suited for a certain position and thus insure against procuring undesirable help. This plays an essential role when a position calls for reliability, consistency and trust.

The reports submitted by the expert are "Stop," "Look" and "Listen" signs to the employer. Many of the conclusions formulated in the analysis suggest lines of approach to the executive, and this proves to be of tremendous assistance.

By following a correct method of treatment, he will not only gain the employee's confidence and loyalty, but will unconsciously inspire him to greater heights of achievement. Handwriting analysis is closely interwoven in the pattern of the commercial world and represents a safe, positive asset, but also a medium for efficiency and congeniality for both the employer and employee.

Danger of Pharisaism If Lent Not Observed

By Rev. G. Stanley Russell

It is a little difficult to understand the frame of mind which prescribes a Lenten abstinence from what is destructive at any time. While it is made with the highest motives and from a quarter which commands universal respect, these special seasons of the year pass away, and with them, goes the good resolution. Many people are Christians at Christmas, and their generous, forgiving and joyous spirit vanishes with the end of the caroling. Not a few are churchmen only at Easter—the reason for their brief enthusiasm remains a mystery—and rejoice the "Lenten masses" for the rest of the 12 months. It is, therefore, very desirable that those who observe Lent should very carefully scrutinize their intentions and emotions, and ask whether they really go down to the roots of their personalities, or are a conventional conformity to which they have been accustomed—or are trying to acquaint themselves by following the habits of others.

GOSPELS OUR GUIDE

The Gospels are, of course, our guide in everything, though it is necessary to read them in the light of knowledge. Therefore the arrival of Lent and the entrance with new Lent on that mental road which ends at Gethsemane, Calvary, and the open tomb, ought not to be regarded with any merely conventional or automatic frame of mind. Education has done something for us after all. We no longer need to learn our theology and history from the staves on cathedral fronts, nor is it essential to swallow ourselves in gloom and then emerge into habitation, in order to remember the Via Dolorosa which ended on a hilltop in bright sunshine.

It is not enough to be sure that our colors are right and our ornaments are covered with crepe, or to decide that we shall have two chocolate at night instead of four, or to resolve to go without sugar for 40 days. There must be something deeper and less seasonal than that. The Lenten spirit, like the Christmas spirit, ought to be a whole time possession. Indeed, unless it is our purpose to make it so, it does not surpass amount to very much.

DAVS OF SURPASSING BEAUTY

On the other hand, it is very meet and right that our Lenten earthly life be followed by seasonal emphasis and meditation. There are times appointed in which we concentrate our thoughts and prayers in definite directions and Lent is one of them. On those last days of Jesus we may well fix our eyes. There is much in them of surpassing beauty. It was during them that the children clambered on his knee and "He took them in his arms and blessed them," which is about the only scriptural warrant we have for infant baptism. It was then also that the rich young ruler came and went—and according to Professor Robertson of Aberdeen, came back again and so stay in the shape of Bernanos "the son of consolation." It was then that he deepened his intimacy with the Beloved Disciple, whom some of us refuse to dismiss from the background of the Gospel that bears his name, who lay on his breast at the Last Supper—evidently a habitual posture, since it occurred to remark—and who alone, when "the disciples forsook him and fled," stood at the Cross, with his youth and love still unquestionably devoted to one who, as his first cousin after the flesh, might have seemed too near and usual to become the Incarnate Word.

No one can surely observe Lent rightly who sees it only as a projected funeral. There are so many exquisite things to remember, so many on which to fix devotional meditation, so many on which to have an examination of our own lives.

Of course it is right that we should consider it all in the light of solemnity and self-discipline, but the solemnity may very well make us wonder whether our emotions are rich enough and wide enough, and the self-discipline may well send us to look again at children, at the possibilities of rich young rulers, and at personal relationships. We may very profitably inquire not whether we are sufficiently austere but whether we are adequately affectionate.

IDEAS TOO THEOLOGICAL

Our ideas of Jesus tend to become too ecclesiastical and theological, and insufficiently factual and historical. Mr. Gladstone, during his university days, formed a resolution to "rescue 'fallen' women. When they accented him in the street, he took them home to Mrs. Gladstone, and helped them to commence a new life. Some people misrepresented his behavior. It was even thought that Queen Victoria had got a wrong impression. One man who wrote him, suggesting only, received a reply to the effect that the prime minister had indeed been seen in the company of a prostitute, but that his purpose was not 'fallen' but 'corrupted'—or perhaps even hoped."

There can surely be little question that the Jesus who openly said that harlots had more chance of the Kingdom of Heaven than pharisees, and who cast the devil out of Mary of Magdala so that she again became Mary of Bethany—scholars identify the two—would have commended the great Victorian for an activity which, however inexpressible, was definitely a following of his own example. It is in such matters that we ought to be examining ourselves during this Lenten season, so that we may be sure that in our hearts, the spirit of the Master has not got lost amid the fog of mere observations—in which the pharisees were meticulous experts.

It is doubtless very desirable to have the colors right and the furnishings correct, but what are those things if we have lost sight of the reality at their centre? "This ought ye to have done, and not to have left the other undone." We are in grave danger of the essential of pharisaism—the cleaning of the outside of platters and the tithing of mint and cummin—and the neglect of those weightier matters of the Eleventh Commandment—the new commandment—that, even as he loved us as we shall love each other."

Church Union Plan Arouses Interest

Need For All Christians To Overcome Differences

By John Talbot

VATICAN CITY, March 6.—(Reuters)—Suggestions for a union of all Christian churches with the fundamental aim of universal peace and protection of Christianity against the attacks of the Godless, have aroused widespread interest in informed circles here.

Rev. Charles Boyer, descan of the theological faculty of the Gregorian University and a well-known Jesuit priest, commenting on the question in an article in the current issue of the Vatican publication, Eccelesia, emphasizes the need for all Christians to overcome their differences.

Father Boyer says two non-Catholic movements working for union of all the churches have been joined.

One is the "Faith and Order" movement which is working to achieve its goal on the doctrinal plane. It was established by certain members of the Protestant Episcopal Church at Cincinnati in 1910.

The other is the "Work and Life" movement, which contemplates a practical agreement and was founded by Rev. Nathan Soderblom, bishop of Upsala and head of the Lutheran Church in Sweden.

These two movements reached agreement in 1930 and created a provisional committee presided over by W. A. Visser 't Hooft, of the Reformed church of Holland.

Father Boyer writes: "Is it possible to remain faithful to the Catholic church, which is the one true church and at the same time believe that the return of dissidents would strengthen her not only numerically but also in the understanding of the dogma and in the exercise of the virtue?"

"If the answer is yes, it would be the signal for good-will to go forward to meet our separated brethren and to take steps to make a reciprocal agreement easier."

"Such a union would not mean a one-sided acceptance of Catholic truth but a reciprocal exchange of mutual riches on both sides."

Plan Menus Ahead; Keeps Budget Down

Here we are at Saturday again and we're faced with a whole new week of menu planning. It's a good idea to have your food ideas for the week all mapped out, allowing for a few extras such as the ones covered Thursday-for-dinner sort of thing.

If you go to the problem with a day-ahead attitude, deciding what you're going to have for supper half an hour before it's to be served, your food expenditure skyrockets.

Making good use of leftovers is housewives' way of saving the budget. And who can utilize leftovers without a good casserole in the house. As a matter of fact, you should have two of them. One that will be deep and covered for things that need moist cooking.

ing, one open and shallow for the crusty things.

Three fruits are an easy and nutritious addition. Try apples, oranges, dried apricots by steaming alone, then mix with a pair of raisins into strips. Add chopped nuts and serve with cottage cheese for a good-as-gold salad. Mind you, cottage cheese that is less than a mile expensive, but they do a long way in flavor.

Cream puffs can be made extra tempting. Fill with packed cottage cheese, pudding instead of custard and glass with a thin paper-milk-flavored icing.

It's a terrific boon to the busy housewife having quantities of the backyard putting things back on the market—and they sell for less than a dime. The chocolate pudding's general rule is sliced bananas and a sprinkling of chopped nuts.

Heart and flower roots (different varieties selected from the lot) added to water, and the directions will prolong the life of your spring flower bouquets better than any dose of salt, water, aspirin or ice. Tulips and narcissi can be made into most attractive centerpieces, incidentally.

An appetizer tidbit that calls for more can be whipped up with a dash of intensity and a bit of your previous time. Fold circle of square bread dough over any of the liver sausage or minced ham. Press device or sharp cheese. Press fingers together, bake. Cheesy bits go well with soup too.

Passport Racket Is Laid Bare

By JAMES MCCOOK.

LONDON, March 6.—(CP)—A bizarre racket in tacked passports, allegedly involving government employees in the passport office in London, was described in how Street court yesterday at the preliminary hearing of five men, accused of conspiracy to obtain passports by fraud.

Witnesses testified that one of the accused, Iddi Weinstenberg, had obtained false passports enabling them to travel to Canada, earning the passing of five men, accused of conspiracy to obtain passports by fraud.

Why Grow Old?

The shapely young girl like Actress Joan Caulfield usually goes in for sports. It is the fat girl who should force herself into activity and become a regular on the tennis court.

By Josephine Lowman.

Many teen-age girls are troubled with overweight and figure problems. This is a self-inflicted one, anyway and such handicaps some-time have a drastic effect on young personalities.

Often the figure difficulties which trouble the young girl will disappear of their own accord. If given time. Many young people are chubby through the waist during the first few years of teenage but later on are beautifully streamlined by nature.

However, it never hurts to give mother nature a boost. The cure at the bustline depends on different ages. Some girls have a well-timed bust by the time they are thirteen while others do not reach adult development until the fifteenth or seventeenth year.

If you are overweight there are a few things you can do to improve the picture while waiting for mother nature to help you out. You can become interested in sports. This is not a natural tendency of the fat girl. She usually stays away from them because she feels awkward and self-conscious. She more than her slim sisters should indulge in sports.

Start with a mild way. Start with brisk walking, ping-pong, skating, doubles at badminton, and work up to tennis and basketball.

You should not diet strenuously as your grown sister or your mother but you can cut out cake and candy, whipped cream, and those luscious soups fountain wonders. You can also skim the milk before you drink it and stay away from fried foods, fat meat, nuts and creamy.

Just a few changes in your diet plus more outdoor activity and a few through-the-body slimming exercises, will probably make the difference you long for. If not, then see your physician and have a metabolism test made.

In the meantime remember that self-consciousness seldom follows alone while a gay, friendly spirit will make you popular regardless of your waistline.

Bad Table Manners Discourage Dates

"Mabel, Mabel, if you're able to take your elbows off the table," or you will wind up eating alone.

No man likes to be seen in public with a girl whose table manners are so sloppy, who clutches over her plate and doesn't know which fork to use.

Good posture is something you should have at all times. Remember it at the table and sit with your back straight and the hand you're not eating with in your lap.

Not only one piece of meat at a time. Use the fork whenever possible for meat, vegetables, dessert. Don't take more than one mouthful on the fork or cut designs in the potatoes with it or tap it out on the table.

If you are in a restaurant where the server is in side-slopes you may transfer the vegetables with your fork to your plate and have the waiter remove the empty dishes.

When to use a spoon? How to behave when you have an unavoidable accident? When to use your fingers? Problems such as these can turn an otherwise pleasant evening into a horror of uncertainty.

You never look pretty with a forced expression on your face. Thrust up your table manners with our Reader Service booklet "Bad Table Manners." It's a freebie for you to have.

Send 20 cents (coin) for "The Reader Service Booklet" to The Edmonton Bulletin, Reader Service, 60 Front St., W., Toronto, Ont. Name, address with zone, booklet list, and No. 45.

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

There are some problems which result in no solution because there is no attempt at compromise. There is a six-month-old child who is never allowed to cry because the grandparents cannot bear to hear crying.

It is too bad to allow a child to cry, but also one cannot expect that there will never be any crying. There is a natural type of behavior. The baby cannot go to sleep all day and if there is a shut up it is in the mother's arms.

Good posture is something you should have at all times. Remember it at the table and sit with your back straight and the hand you're not eating with in your lap.

Not only one piece of meat at a time. Use the fork whenever possible for meat, vegetables, dessert. Don't take more than one mouthful on the fork or cut designs in the potatoes with it or tap it out on the table.

Britain to Study Empire Migration

Australian Proposals to Come Before U.K. Cabinet Soon

LONDON, March 6.—(Reuters)—Proposals by Australia's immigration minister, Arthur Calveil, for mass emigration of millions of Britons to Australia will come before the cabinet at an early date, although at the moment they have not gone beyond the Commonwealth relations office here.

According to some quarters, Calveil's proposals, submitted in a letter to the Commonwealth relations minister, Philip Noel-Baker, also include transfers of certain British industries, including by Australia of a proportionate share of the British national debt, and the building of a large immigration fleet. It is clear that these proposals will involve detailed consideration over a period before any official reaction is obtainable. Britain, fighting to avert economic disaster, suffers from an acute manpower shortage, and is even importing European displaced persons to fill in gaps in her labor ranks. But the British official policy on emigration indicates clearly that in

Two Children Die When Home Burns

OKAVILLE, Man. March 6.—(CP)—Two children lost their lives yesterday when fire destroyed a home near Okaville, 35 miles west of Winnipeg. The dead, Russell, three, and Georgina Nichols, five.

The fire started in the upstairs part of the house where the children were sleeping. George Nichols, the father, was away from home at the time and his wife was unable to reach the two children although the manager of a nearby hotel, a one-story building, to safety.

Neighbors were unable either to make an effort to save the children or extinguish the fire because of snow-blocked roads.

ADVERTISE BOMB SHELTER

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—(AP)—The Business Men's Association petitioned the city council to build immediately a city bomb shelter in a building.

Then it made a second request, brighten with illuminating paint a huge sign on the top that reads "South San Francisco, the industrial city." Bewildered councilmen pointed out that the illuminating sign would make a fine bomb target.

The interests of the Commonwealth efforts will be made so far as practicable, to assist emigration to any dominion that has asked for it.

The Calveil proposals have promoted the suggestion in some quarters that there should be a mass transplanting of industry, as well as population, to Australia as well as other dominions.

SUPERMAN

WHAT STRANGER IS THIS WHO DARES TRIFLE WITH THE QUEEN?

SPEAK LESS BOLDLY, MARK ANTONY! FOR WITH THIS STRANGER BESIDE ME, I FEAR NOT THE MIGHT OF YOUR LEGIONS!

INTRIGUED BY SUPERMAN'S MIGHT, CLEOPATRA IS ATTEMPTING TO EMPLOY THE POWER OF HER BEAUTY TO DISSUADE THE MAN OF STEEL FROM LEAVING EGYPT, WHEN SUDDENLY...

43G

WHAT? YOU DARE TURN AGAINST ME? THEN, BY JUPITER, YOUR ALEXANDRIA SHALL BE REDUCED TO ASHES BY MY MEN!

LOOK, YOUR HIGHNESS—I DON'T WANT TO START ANY TROUBLE BETWEEN YOU TWO. I JUST WANT TO GET HOME!

WOULD YOU DESERT ME NOW, WHEN FOR YEARS I'VE DREAMED OF ONE LIKE YOU TO FREE ME FROM THE TYRANNY OF THAT POMPOUS ROMAN? SAY YOU'LL STAY!

ER-AH—WELL—I REALLY SHOULDN'T, BUT——I DISLIKE TYRANNY OF ANY KIND, SO—WELL—ER—MAYBE I'LL STICK AROUND, YOUR HIGHNESS.

CALL ME—CLEO!

LOOK YOU—THE QUEEN DEFIES THE MIGHTY ANTONY BECAUSE OF THIS STRANGER!

REST EASY. THE QUEEN'S DEADLY BEAUTY IS SUFFICIENT TO KEEP THE SITUATION IN HAND. SHE PLAYS HER OWN GAME WITH THEM.

YOU SHALL LEAD THE ARMIES OF EGYPT AGAINST THE ROMAN LEGIONS QUARTERED OUTSIDE ALEXANDRIA, AND—

THAT WON'T BE NECESSARY. I'LL HANDLE EVERYTHING MYSELF.

I'LL DEAL WITH THE TYRANT ANTONY NO MATTER HOW MANY LEGIONS HE SURROUNDS HIMSELF WITH!

OH—MAN WHO FLIES LIKE AN EAGLE—I SHALL HAVE A FITTING BANQUET PREPARED—IF YOU RETURN ALIVE!

BE WARY, O QUEEN, LEST THIS MAN-EAGLE WREST CONTROL OF EGYPT FROM YOUR HANDS. YOU COULD MANAGE ANTONY.

FEAR NOT, ALREADY, THE EAGLE IS A DOVE IN MY HANDS. AND I'M TIRED OF ANTONY. HE'S SUCH A POMPOUS BORE.

THERE'S THE ROMAN CAMP NOW, AND THAT MUST BE ANTONY'S TENT IN THE CENTER.

I GET DIZZY WHEN I'M NEAR HER—AND LONESOME WHEN I'M AWAY. WHAT A WOMAN. ONCE I SEND ANTONY BACK TO ROME, WELL—I DON'T SEE ANY REASON TO LEAVE EGYPT IN A HURRY! (SIGH)

NICE MICE

THE Teenie Weenies, no doubt, have been a great influence for good in the home life of house mice in the neighborhood of the Teenie Weenie village. There are exceptions, of course, such as Ginky, who is at heart a rowdy and who probably will come to no good end. But take the case of the Respectable Mice and there you have a fine example of mouse culture.

The Respectable Mice were just common house mice before they met the Teenie Weenies. They were not above breaking into a package of crackers or nibbling an imported cheese in any house. But when they moved into the neighborhood of the Teenie Weenie village, they admired the little people and began to copy their ways—especially Mrs. Respectable Mouse, who is very ambitious for the nicer things in mouse life.

The Teenie Weenies, being most neighborly, gladly helped the mice to a higher standard of living. The men made a table and twin beds for them, and several cradles were fashioned out of English walnut shells. Mice have a great many babies and cradles are most necessary. They made stools for the mice instead of chairs because mice have some difficulty in managing their tails in ordinary chairs.

The Respectable Mice lived under the foundations of a big house. There was a small hole in one place between the stones and Mrs. Respectable Mouse hung up curtains in the opening to avoid drafts and the Lady of Fashion showed her how to make floor rugs out of odd bits of cloth. In payment

The TEENIE WEENIES

BY WM. DONAHEY

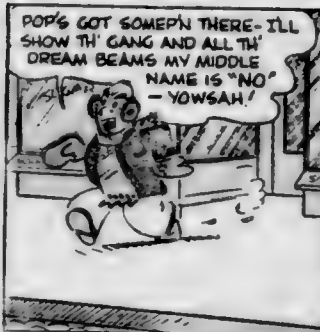

for all this, the Respectable Mice pulled the Teenie Weenie plow and did other odd jobs.

The Respectable Mice raised many children who grew up into honest mice. The Teenie Weenie Doctor always promptly answered a call when any of the Respectable babies came down with whooping cough or mumps. Once Mr. Respectable Mouse had an unfortunate meeting with a kitten. He was badly injured and he probably would have met a sad end if it hadn't been for the careful attention of the Teenie Weenie Doctor, who called several times a day to pull the mouse through his illness. The Lady of Fashion often went with the Doctor and she always carried an acorn basket filled with delicate food for the patient.

The Respectable Mice are contented with their improved way of living and their example has had great influence on most of the other mice in the neighborhood, for a mouse trap is now rarely seen in the big houses near the Teenie Weenie village.
